

SPAIN now has the largest submarine navy on the globe. Spanish territory is very rich—splendid place to raise American flags.

WE are just now preparing to make the Don dance the Spanish fandango to a new tune.

It was in 1492 that Spain discovered America. She also discovered us some more in 1898.

Spain evidently wants to assume the attitude of being "badly disgraced," but still in the ring.

It is the rapid-fire gun and the rapid-fire thinking and acting that have brought us most success in this war.

TALMAGE has turned prophet. He predicts the downfall of Spain within six weeks, and the consequent overthrow of the little king.

The king of Spain is just recovering from the measles, but it is quite likely that that does not entirely cure him of that taste in his mouth.

The hero of the Meritinae has been the subject of much conjecture of late as to his matrimonial intentions. But it has not yet been definitely settled as to who is Talbot's choice.

SEVERAL gentlemen who claim to be in close touch with ex-Gov. John Young Brown and who feel sure they will win the nomination for Governor, are making the Democratic nomination their object.

DR. R. H. McNEILL, of Breckinridge county, has been nominated by the people of this county for the Fourth Congressional district.

It is said that Dr. McNeill is an expert of good ability and considerable popularity, and he will likely poll a large share of his party's vote.

It does not appear why the President has so studiously kept the full terms of the peace treaty with Spain from his own people. It would seem that the courteous and fair way to treat the American people would be for their President to keep them as fully informed as to this affair which so vitally concerns them as his friends the enemy.

THERE have been never been such minor recoveries from fever as reported by Gen. Shafter from Cuba. Nearly every day comes a dispatch announcing six or seven hundred new cases and five or six hundred returned to ranks. Either the type of fever is not a very serious one, or the situation is attempting being made to conceal the real condition of affairs.

The attention of the county clerk of the State is called to the fact that the masters of the war of 1812 and also of the Mexican war, although printed by the State at a cost of $2,500 and sent to every county clerk, seem to have disappeared from most of the offices. It is a heavy fine to allow these documents to disappear, and clerks should look them up at once.

THIS will be a great year for farmers in Kentucky. The weather conditions throughout the State have been most favorable and there will be an immense crop of almost every staple product. When the farmer prospers, it also means prosperity for others in handling the products of the farm. No one deserves this good fortune more than the Kentucky farmer, and he will find many to rejoice with him.

The condition of affairs in Havana is truly pitiable. There is starvation everywhere. The worst of it is that this suffering and distress is being borne in the majority of cases by innocent people—helpless women and children. True, the Spanish forces are suffering, but their deprivation is no comparison to that being inflicted upon the weaker ones. War condition is almost hopeless. War is cruel, but never so cruel as when the innocent are made to suffer for the deeds of others.

A MOVEMENT is on foot to provide a magnificent altar service for the new battleship Kentucky, which will be put in commission in the next few days. Every citizen of Kentucky is invited to contribute. It is intended that the set shall be a splendid recognition of the high compliment paid our State in the naming of this magnificent ship. All letters containing subscriptions should be addressed to J. F. Luckner, Secretary Board of Trade, Louisville, Ky., who will acknowledge receipt of same.

PERSONAL characteristics of Gen. Shafter that have been cropping out lately do not reflect credit upon that gentleman in any commanding capacity. It seems to be a man of quick and unresponsive temper, selfish and overbearing in manner, and with a very noticeable air of self-importance. It is said that he is a man of little patience, quick-spoken, and not particularly particular about the language he uses in addressing a subordinate. He is reported as having called men the most disrespectful names on the slightest provocation. His unequalled good personal character is marred by these discrepancies. A man of such a disposition is not qualified for any position over men. He should be severely reprimanded by the authorities at Washington.

The trouble which came upon Misses Pauline Hardin and Roberta Barnette as a result of political pulling and combining, demonstrates the fact that women in politics does not insure the country against wrangles and spiteful exhibitions, any more than men do. The women were both candidates for State Librarian, but as is often done at a crucial moment in politics, Miss Barnette withdrew and threw her support to Miss Hardin, upon the understanding that she would be one of the chief clerks.

Failure to be rewarded with the stipulated office, led Miss Barnette to adopt harsh measures of redress, which precipitated quite a wrangle. Every elective office is won at the sacrifice of more or less good will, and woman's innate modesty and kindly disposition must be in consequence when she enters the demoralizing realm of politics.

AN exchange of a neighboring call attention of the town trustees to the fact that the town of Hartford is in a wretched condition and needs repair. It warns the older citizens of the place that unless they want their daughters hugged by young men, they should at once see to it that the town is in a better condition.

PRINCE BISMARCK DEAD. BERLIN, July 30.—Bismarck is dead. He died at 10 o'clock to-night at Friedrichsruh, his country estate near Lüneburg. The Prince's death is an event of the greatest importance to the world.

It appears that the ex-Chancellor's death was not precipitated by sudden illness, but rather by the gradual accumulation of chronic disease, the result of the face and inflammation of the throat, the isolation of his life, and the strenuous endeavors of the attendants of the family to prevent his being given to what they considered a premature death.

SPAIN has changed her tune. From the proud, arrogant and conceited attitude which assumed that she was the embodiment of honor and integrity, she has now become a humble beggar for peace. She has come square up against the hard, cold fact that she has lost the war, and she is now a beggar for peace.
